

RP Continuing Education Options

- A. Eastern Mennonite University. Graduate Certificate in Restorative Justice, 18 credit hours through multiple graduate level courses taken through CJP's annual Summer Peace building Institute or through combining one semester on campus and one summer term. emu.edu/cjp

- B. Fresno Pacific University. <https://www.fresno.edu/> Search for: Peacemaking and Conflict Studies. They offer a Master's of Arts in Peacemaking & Conflict Studies. They offer a Restorative Justice Concentration. One week Institute in Conflict Management (tentatively scheduled for March 6-10 and Aug 7-11 in 2017). <https://www.fresno.edu/programs-majors/graduate/peacemaking-and-conflict-studies>

Retired professor Ron Claassen is offering courses online that are run through FPU's Professional Development division. <http://disciplinethatrestores.org>

- C. International Institute for Restorative Practices. Master of Science and Graduate Certificate in Restorative Practices (brochure available). www.iirp.edu. Contact Jamie Kaintz, Director of Student Services at jamiengkaintz@iirp.edu or 610-807-9221.

- D. San Diego State University. College of Education, College of Extended Studies, School of Public Affairs. Restorative Justice and Practices One Unit Courses. Typically offered Friday, 3:00-9:00 pm & Saturday 8:00 am-5:00 pm. Summer 2015 one unit cost was $199.00. To learn more or to register please visit <http://neverstoplearning.net/oneunit>.

SAN DIEGO STATE UNIVERSITY

- E. Suffolk University Boston, Center for Restorative Justice, The Center for Restorative Justice sponsors and participates in a variety of events designed to foster constructive, creative dialogue about current and potential applications of restorative justice. A community-engaged academic center committed to the promotion of restorative justice practices, principles and values. Located in Boston, Massachusetts.

- F. The University of Maine: Division of Lifelong Learning. Peace & Reconciliation Studies. Undergraduate & graduate courses.

